JsPsychR, open source, standard tooling for experimental protocols: towards Registered reports

Dr. Gorka Navarrete.

Universidad Adolfo Ibáñez, Chile

Resumen:

Registered Reports (RRs) were proposed in 2012 as an article format aimed at reducing the need to obtain significant results for publishing our studies, among other things. However, there are some doubts about the effect this format could have on the quality of research, the reduction in the novelty of results, etc.
