MEASURES TO ADAPT SINGLE FINAL ASSESSMENT TO DISTANCE MODE

(Alternative tools for distance assessment, indicating assessment instruments, criteria and percentages of overall mark)

In the contingency plan for teaching and distance mode assessment at the University of Granada (<https://covid19.ugr.es/noticias/plan-contingencia-docencia-y-evaluacion-no-presencial-ugr>) it is established that "If the evolution of the current health emergency situation allows for in-person extraordinary single final assessment in university premises, this will take place on the period "described in the aforementioned contingency plan, that is, between the 1 and September 25, 2020. Consequently, the evaluation of this subject in the extraordinary single final call will be carried out in person, unless the evolution of the current health emergency situation does not allow it.

- If the extraordinary single final assessment is in person, the assessment remains the same established in the Course guide, that is, 100% of the mark will correspond to that obtained in a final assessment of the following type: Written exam: 10 general questions related to the topics covered in the lectures. (100%)
- If the case that the evolution of the current health emergency situation does not allow it, the assessment will be:
  - PRADO
Write exam
Responses accuracy to the questions proposed.
100%
